Orange Beach Elementary News Article for August 25, 2009 By: Hanna Hart & Payton Lanier

We are doing great in the 3rd week of school! Sea, Sand, and Stars had a great open house this past weekend. Sea, Sand, and Stars has expanded with a new aquarium with lots of new sea life. Kindergarten through 3rd grade classes in Sea, Sand, and Stars are studying a 1ft. by 1ft plot of the school grounds for evidence of life, but that's not all they're learning! 3rd graders in Sea, Sand, and Stars are also beginning a life science study of plants. Kindergarteners in Sea, Sand, and Stars are using their five senses to learn about nature. First graders will also learn about nature, using shapes and colors. We are very lucky to have SSS!

Caitlyn Wyers at the Sea, Sand & Stars Open House

Mrs. Cahn's kindergarten class chased the gingerbread man all around the school, to learn about the office, gym, library, lunch room, computer lab, music room, and SSS. They are learning about the characters in their book, "The Little School Bus". They also learned to sing their names. Mrs. Hollis kindergarten students are learning about pirates. In the next weeks they will learn more about their selves and their classroom family.

Mrs. Gehr and Mrs. Holder's second grade classes are exploring the wonders of outer space in science and social studies and making constellations! In math, they are adding and subtracting to find sums. They are also learning about grouping and how to write letters.

Mr. Baker's fourth grade class is learning in history about the European Explores and discovering Alabama. In science, they are classifying living things. They are studying place value, and decimals in math. In Sea, Sand, and Stars, they are studying native plants. Fourth grade would also like to welcome Andrew Flowe, Lane Austin, Michel Killian, Connor Kyzer, and Allison Mann to our school!

Ms. Bagget's fourth grade class is starting a ship project to make replicas of ships for open house! They are also learning about cells in science, and reviewing multiplication facts. In language, they are studying parts of a sentence.

We are having a great time and learning a lot in 6th grade. Ms. Siegel's class is learning about Westward Expansion and are writing letters home acting like they are living during this time period. In Mrs. Cardwell's class, we are learning about maps and making models of geographic features in clay. In Reading, we are reading, "Viva New Jersey" and will sample Cuban meals that are in the story. In Math, both classes are learning about exponents and algebraic expressions. Sixth graders were also excited about their time in Sea, Sand, and Stars, where they were able to watch a video about weather instruments, and learned how to use weather.com to find weather reports from different cities.

Mr. Brannan and Mr. England are very happy to be directing band. They had a great turn out and are very excited about the many people that have joined band.

A Bankers Handicap will be used for scoring. 6 Holes will be selected randomly. The number of strokes over par of those 6 holes is multiplied by three and 80% of that number is the team handicap. The handicap is then subtracted from the team's gross score and the result is the net score.
